Summary

I'm an entrepreneur, I write code to create great products for customers. I also develop my own commercial iOS application Fastriver, a new tool for e-commerce in Ukraine, allowing merchants to keep records of their goods and orders and track their payment and delivery.

Here are some great projects I've worked on, Mr Dicey, King Apdo, Say Me, Pleasant Space, and others. Developing and programming for the web and mobile devices has always been a pleasure for me. I was drawn into this industry by my brother, to whom I am very grateful for his support and help.
